Standard References on Certificates

Excerpts (for detail go to www.anab.org)

- ★ AS9104A reference is required on certificates
- ★ Heads Up alludes to the fact that AIR5359 reference is not required on certificates.
- ★ Post-Heads Up –
  - ★ Concern the Heads Up is not correct.
  - ★ Heads up is correct based on the OPMT resolution (all certs must include “the certification has been performed in accords with the requirements of AS9104xx”).
  - ★ However, the Heads Up does not take into account AIR5359 (which requires AIR5359 to be referenced on the certificate)
  - ★ Need to create a new Heads Up explaining until such time as AIR5359 is canceled it is required to be on any certificate being issued. Do not need to re-issue certificates for this requirement.

AQMS Initial Audits (no upgrades)

Excerpts (for detail go to www.anab.org)

- ★ A full audit to AS9100 (or to AS9120 or AS9110, as applicable) including ISO 9001 is required, even though a client may have been certified to ISO 9001:2000.
- ★ This means it is also expected that the CB audit team will complete, in full, the applicable audit checklist.
- ★ Post-Heads Up – ??

Heads Up 70 ~

Extensions (not allowed)

Excerpts (for detail go to www.anab.org)

- ★ There is no provision for extending certification past the expiration date stated on the certificate if the CB and client have not fulfilled all requirements for recertification.
- ★ Post-Heads Up – ??
