Air Expeditionary Force (AEF)

AFMC

Depot Maintenance & Logistics must support AEF
schedules/missions

- AFMC approach

- ‘Leaning out’ depot maintenance processes
- Decreasing the mobility footprint
- Developing flexible workforce
- Maximizing cost, schedule, & quality

This approach fits DOD

Continuous Process Improvement

AFMC

We must transform Depot Maintenance and Logistics to meet the current and future needs of the warfighter

eLog21 Goals

10% Decrease in Annual Operating Support Cost by FY 2011

20% Increase in Equipment Availability

Depot Maintenance Transformation (DMT)

Purchasing and Supply Chain Management (PSCM)

Product Support Campaign (PSC)

System Reliability

Improving reliability is key to reducing cost, improving availability, and enhancing operational readiness

- Better reliability will drive:

- Less repairs
- Fewer buys
- Reduced Infrastructure

- Today's environment

- Aging systems
- Reduced funding
- Need for more “rubber on the ramp”

- Fragmented life-cycle management
- High total ownership cost

Design Weapons Systems with Reliability of a “Microwave Oven”

Workforce Development

AFMC

We must prepare our workforce to meet tomorrow's challenges

- Improve training
 - Ensure future workforce is ready
 - Link with vo-tech schools
 - Take full advantage of military tech schools
- Technical skills
 - High tech computers
 - Latest technology/tools/machinery
 - Robotics
- Flexibility is key
 - Multi-skilling/multi-tasking

AFMC/LG pioneering Workforce Development/Training Initiatives

Depot Maintenance Team Focus

AFMC

Optimize Depot Maintenance & Logistics support across the DoD enterprise

- Benefits:
 - Maximize use of existing capabilities and resources
 - Minimizing duplication of expenditure
 - Establishing synergistic, inter-service relationships
- Partnering
- Performance Based Logistics (PBLs)

Joint = Maximizing Resources & Capabilities

Bottom Line

AFMGC

- Our world is changing – we must adapt
- Flexibility and new thinking required to meet tomorrow's challenges
- Partnerships ensure successful mission accomplishment
