Take this chance to get free editorial coverage for your company!

Deadline: August 11, 2006

The October 2006 issue of Aerospace Engineering magazine will feature:

Digital Design

Software designers have enabled aerospace engineers to have a more interactive design process.

Global aerospace programs

An update on the most recent technologies and developments of global aerospace suppliers and manufacturers.

To take advantage of this opportunity, simply submit:

- An exclusive by-lined article or a detailed, technical description of the product/technology, as well as supportive materials (i.e. press kits, new releases, brochures, etc.) If you submit information on more than one product/technology, please prioritize submissions based on their significance. Company profiles will not be accepted. (Items published at editors' discretion.)
- High-resolution color images at least three inches wide at 300 dpi in TIFF or JPEG format.
- Contact information including...
  - Company contact information with address, phone, and e-mail
  - A media contact (with complete address information if different from above)

Also, when you update your media list, please add Jean Broge, Editor, Aerospace Engineering magazine so she will receive the latest, up-to-date news about your company and its products/services throughout the year.
