Re: SAE International Draft Technical Report Nos. J2845, J2099, J3032, J3033, J3034, J3035, and J639

Dear Mr. Pokrzywa:

In accordance with the current version of the SAE Technical Standards Board Governance Policy relating to patent disclosures, Honeywell International Inc. ("Honeywell") states:

Honeywell does not hold and does not currently intend holding any invention claimed in a patent or a pending patent application the use of which would be required for compliance with SAE Standard / Technical Report Nos. J2845, J2099, J3032, J3033, J3034, J3035, and J639, as proposed in draft form dated April 2013.

[Company] shall make available the following patented and/or patent pending technology, which is or may become essential to SAE Standard / Technical Report No. _____, to persons or entities desiring to implement the Report.

[Company] shall (select only one):

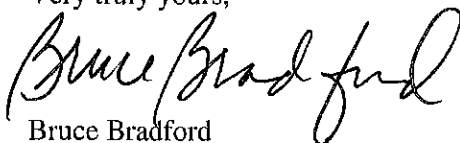

- provide a royalty-free, non-exclusive license to the patents/patent applications listed below; or
- provide a non-exclusive license to the patents/patent applications listed below under reasonable rates, with reasonable terms and conditions that are demonstrably free of any unfair discrimination.

Honeywell does hold patents and applications relating to 1234ze, including at least the US patents listed below and their foreign counterparts, none of which Honeywell believes are required to comply with the above-referenced standards.

US Application 11/35,259
US Application 11/850,028
US Patent: 8,033,120B2
US Patent: 8,053,404B2
US Patent: 8,065,882B2.

Kindly direct all correspondence to my attention and please contact me if you would like to discuss this matter in greater detail.

Very truly yours,

Bruce Bradford
