

Privacy Notice for SAE Events - COVID-19 Specific

SAE's commitment to your privacy

As the event organizer, SAE International ("SAE") is committed to protecting the privacy and security of your personal data. This SAE Events - COVID-19 specific Privacy Notice ("Notice") has been developed as part of our commitment to transparency. It should be read alongside the main SAE privacy notice, which is available on the SAE website at <https://www.sae.org/about/legal-policies/privacy-policy> and is referenced in this document.

Personal data we may process about you

The data that we seek to process about you, as set out below, may in some circumstances be above and beyond what we would ordinarily collect. However, the purpose of collecting this data is to ensure the safety and well-being of all event attendees, as well as to aid business continuity. Such information will be limited to what is proportionate and necessary. We may use the following special categories of personal data as part of our COVID-19 specific event activity:

- Information about your COVID-19 vaccination status and/or test results. There is no legal requirement to provide this information to SAE but failure to do so may mean you are denied entry to the event.

How we may use the information we process about you

The information we process about you will only be used to: determine whether you are fit to participate in the event, to prevent the spread of COVID-19, and to reduce the potential risk of exposure to other event attendees. We set out below details of the legal basis for processing for these purposes.

Information that we may process about you from third parties and other sources

We will not collect information about you from third parties and other sources in this context.

The purpose and legal basis for processing your information

We may process special categories of personal data for the following purposes and under the following legal bases:

Processing purpose	Legal basis for processing
Assess your fitness to participate in the event; comply with our duty of care to all event attendees by ensuring a safe environment; to avoid the spread of COVID-19 and to reduce the risk of exposure to all event attendees as well as	Specific conditions must be met to process your personal data lawfully. These are as follows: (1) We have a legitimate interest in processing this data in order to:

ensuring business continuity and avoiding more intrusive measures of processing.	(i) comply with our duty of care and health and safety obligations to event attendees; (ii) to avoid the spread of COVID-19 at our business event; and (iii) to ensure business continuity; and/or (2) We are under a legal obligation to provide a safe place of work. The processing of special categories of personal data, which includes data concerning a person’s health, is prohibited unless specific further conditions can be met. These additional relevant conditions are below: (1) processing is necessary for the purposes of preventive or occupational medicine, for the assessment of the working capacity, medical diagnosis, the provision of health or social care or treatment or the management of health or social care systems, subject to additional safeguards; and/or (2) processing is necessary for reasons of public interest in the area of public health, such as protecting against serious cross-border threats to health; and/or (3) processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, which shall be proportionate to the aim pursued, respect the essence of the right to data protection and provide for suitable and specific measures to safeguard the fundamental rights and interests of the data subject.
---	--

Where our or a third party's legitimate interests is stated as being the legal basis for how we use your personal data, we make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative) and your rights before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted to by law). You can obtain further information about how we access our legitimate interests against any potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by contacting us at the contact address in the SAE privacy notice.

Disclosure of personal data

Please refer to the SAE privacy notice. In particular, please note that we will only share your information, on a need-to-know basis, with appropriate individuals. Only the minimum information for the purpose will be shared. We will not share your information with anyone else unless required to do so under additional legal requirements, for example, to assist the Government in containing the spread of COVID-19. This may be where we are required to do so by law, to safeguard public safety, and in risk of harm or emergency situations.

International transfers of personal data

Where an SAE event is taking place in the USA, processing personal data there constitutes an international transfer. However, as below, no event attendee COVID-19 personal data will be retained.

Third-Party Service Providers

SAE is using a third-party vendor called CrowdPass to support our efforts in this activity. Their privacy policy is available at <https://www.crowdpass.co/privacy-policy>

Retention of personal data

No event attendee COVID-19 personal data will be retained by SAE.

Your rights

Please refer to the SAE privacy notice.

Updates to this Statement

Please refer to the SAE privacy notice.

Contact

Please refer to the SAE privacy notice.

Our Affiliates

Please refer to the SAE privacy notice.